American Legion Jersey Boys State to be held June 21-26, 2009

850 high school juniors expected at Rider University, first Lt. Governor elected in NJ

TRENTON, NJ ... June 12, 2009 ... American Legion Jersey Boys State (“ALJBS”), a program sponsored by the American Legion Department of New Jersey, will hold its 64th annual weeklong conference on the campus of Rider University, Lawrenceville, NJ from Sunday, June 21st to Friday, June 26th. High school juniors from across the State of New Jersey will convene on the campus of Rider University to participate in ALJBS’ hands-on approach in teaching civics and government at the local, county and state level, including party politics. Delegates are organized into “cities” of approximately 55 of their peers and assigned to one of the ALJBS parties, the Federal party or the National party. Within 24 hours of their arrival to ALJBS, each city will have elected a mayor and council from within their ranks.

Approximately 850 delegates from around the state will begin to arrive on the campus of Rider on Father’s Day, June 21st. Days are action-packed and begin with a 7 am breakfast and do not end until “lights out” at about 11 pm each night. During this college-level seminar, general assemblies, seminars, court sessions, a college fair, and classroom-type instruction are conducted to teach the delegates the fundamentals of democracy, politics and public policy. The highlight of the week will come on Thursday afternoon when the 64th elected ALJBS Governor is announced and sworn into office, in addition New Jersey’s first elected Lieutenant Governor at the ALJBS program. Every delegate selected to the program has the opportunity to run for Governor, but only one will be elected to this high position. The final election will be held Friday morning and announced during graduation. Two delegates will be elected to represent ALJBS at the annual American Legion Boys Nation program in Washington, D.C..

Some notable alumni of the American Legion Boys State program include President Bill Clinton (Arkansas), Vice President Dick Cheney (Wyoming), Astronaut Neil Armstrong (Ohio), NBC News Anchor Tom Brokaw (South Dakota), and Basketball Star Michael Jordan (North Carolina). Notable alumni from New Jersey's annual program include US Senator Robert Menendez, State Senator William Baroni, US Congressman Leonard Lance, Assemblyman Herbert Conaway, 2009 Gubernatorial Candidate Christopher Christie and Newark Mayor Cory Booker.

Some notable speakers to address the 2009 ALJBS delegation include Governor Jon Corzine (Wednesday, June 24th at 2:30 pm), Senator Robert Menendez (Friday, June 26th at 2pm), US Representative Leonard Lance (Monday, June 22nd at 7:30pm), 2009 Gubernatorial Candidate Christopher Christie (Friday, June 26th 2pm), and Newark Mayor Cory Booker (Sunday, June 21st 2pm).

About ALJBS

American Legion Jersey Boys State is a citizenship and leadership training program held annually in June for high school students who have completed their junior year. ALJBS is among the most respected and selective educational programs of its kind for high school students in the entire country. It is a participatory program where each delegate becomes part of running his local, county and state government. Though the program has national roots dating back to 1935, ALJBS came to New Jersey in 1946 and has been held every year since

At American Legion Jersey Boys State, participants are exposed to the rights, privileges, duties and responsibilities of a franchised citizen. The training is objective and practical with city, county and state governments operated by the statesmen elected and appointed to the various offices and positions. Activities include elections, debates, council meetings, legislative sessions, court proceedings, career seminars, speeches from top New Jerseyans, band, chorus and organized athletic programs.

Top high school juniors are selected by local American Legion Posts to attend the program from all across the State of New Jersey. In most cases, the sponsoring American Legion Post, a local business or another community-based organization pays the expenses associated with sending a delegate to this outstanding program.

ALJBS, sponsored by the American Legion Department of New Jersey, has a strong tradition of education, patriotism and excellence in the development of tomorrow's leaders at our weeklong hands-on program. Each year, approximately 850 high school juniors attend the program Sponsored by the American Legion, the program leadership strives to be a college-level seminar complete with a college fair, keynote speakers and various daily seminars that focus on topics from law enforcement and careers in politics to medicine and public administration.
